Dear Mrs. Corbett,
It's been really nice being in your class. Hope to have you next year.
Love
Judy Pozz

Dear Mrs. Corbett,
Well the year is over.
It's really been fun, and I even learned some history. Have a nice summer and I'll see you next year.
Love,
Diane ☺

Mrs. Corbett,

It's been really great having you. You're an interesting, inspiring teacher, which is very rare. I'll see you next year. Have a good summer. May God bless.

Love,

Marti

Mrs. Corbett,

You are one of my favorite teachers. You have helped me a lot. You may be a little nutty, but but we all have to hang loose some time so like I say let it all hang out. Seriously I really dig you so stay as sweet as you are and when become a famous musician I will remember you. So "together and all" I'll

Love you with this.

T. Bonkacat

Charles

Must wait! ... more to come! Have a nice summer. Hope to have you next year. Love, Janice R. 14th Jan 71

Dear Mrs. Corbett,
You are such a wonderful person to get along with. I have gained a lot by being in your history because you are a very good teacher. Love, Dianne Craigwell (2nd person)

DEAR Tiff (excuse my familiarity) -
You + Russ (Eiffert) ARE the craziest teachers in the school! Both of you ought to get bombed together. Thanks for being so liberal and letting us do anything we wanted. Not only are you funny but you're pretty. Stay Cool, Kid.
Love ya

for what is it to die but to stand naked in the wind and to melt into the sun?

and what is it to cease breathing, but to free the breath from its restless tides, that it may rise and expand and seek god unencumbered?

Dear Mrs Corbett,
Its been nice and
very interesting to have you as a teacher this year.
I disagree with you on alot of things, but it has been very enriching to discuss topics with you. Thank you very much for your friendliness.

juniors

you may give them your love but not your thoughts, for they have their own thoughts.
you may house their bodies but not their souls,
for their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow,
which you cannot visit,
not even in your dreams.

earth

environmental activists for restoring terrestrial health (earth) saw the start of its first year of action in september of this school year. the group, guided by its founders and presidents, leslie austin, dory horak, john o'brien, and bill westman, and its advisor, mr. david wong, sought to bring the drastic effects that man's pollution is inflicting upon the earth to the public's attention. the clean-up of the green brook, neighborhood paper drives, active participation in earth day activities, and speaking engagements at various local clubs, have kept earth one of the busiest organizations at phs.

Entrée

the entrée, phs's school newspaper, recorded and commented on events taking place throughout the nation as well as within the community and school. under the able guidance of mr. beehler, interested students were given the opportunity to gain working experience in journalism. the staff was led by hard-working senior editors mark schiffer, bill stanley, donna reese, and kevin mc cartney, who were assisted by regina monroe, jeff scheckner, and richard charles.

plaintalk

plaintalk, phs's literary magazine, is sponsored by mrs. rifino. the magazine, published annually, is made up of students' poetry, essays, short stories, and art work. the staff selects the best writings from those submitted. this year's literary editor was kevin mc cartney and art editor was marcey bassoff.

styrofoam

a child by the name of lyla fell out of society (the other day) into a deep dark hole
made of styrofoam and clay.
rebounding against walls of styrofoam
lyla collapsed
sucked into a whirlpool of wet red clay
lyla . . . collapsed
poppa's sixteen year old baby . . . collapsed
and she couldn't get up

images floated through lyla's head as she bogged in the muddy Hole.
society's man, blurred by haze, screamed epitaphs of cold reprisal.
classrooms whirled madly through space knocking lyla flat poppa's sixteen year old baby lay sprawled on the kitchen floor
and she couldn't get up

styrofoam ripped relentlessly into lyla's soul.
the sculptor thought she was clay
and her mind was molded.
lyla reached aimlessly for an opening and there was none.
crying, lyla crawled to the bottom of the Hole
but there was none.
poppa's sixteen year old baby . . . died
and she'll never get up.

chorus

the 58 members of the plainfield high school chorus demonstrated their talent on two occasions this year. the christmas concert featured selections from handel's messiah and several gospel songs. selections from brahms' requiem, spirituals, and latin american songs highlighted the spring concert. the chorus also entertained the american cancer society on one occasion.

under the direction of mrs. valerie floyd, the chorus has experimented with modern concepts in music. songs are chosen for their rhythmic content and the enjoyment of singing them.

audio visual aids squad

the audio-visual aids squad has the stage electricians for its nucleus. they supply the teachers with projection and sound equipment and make minor repairs when machines break down. the squad also has many projectionists for the operation of equipment in the classrooms.

stage electricians

the stage electricians set up all the stage lighting and operate the switchboard for all school functions held in the plainfield auditorium. the members also operate for any outside group that rents the auditorium from the board of education.

drama club

the drama club is an organization that meets weekly during activity period. the students involved coordinate and participate in weekly presentations that deal with all phases of drama. students wishing to join the club present an "audition" for the other members. after joining, they are required to perform to the standards set up by the international thespians society. these standards are maintained by a point system, points being given for each detail of work accomplished. besides weekly programs, several assemblies are presented. the drama club also entered the plainfield area little theatre contest held in the spring.

assembly club

the assembly club is an organization which meets periodically to discuss and organize the assemblies scheduled throughout the year. the goal of the assembly club is to bring to the students assemblies of worthwhile merit which are not only entertaining, but also informative and educational. this goal is achieved by selecting those students who are interested in producing, performing in, and organizing good assemblies.

the phs ushering squad, under the supervision of mr. thompson, ushers at all phs assemblies, special events, and evening functions. their duties began in june with the recognition assembly and graduation exercises. in september work resumed with the dedication of the new high school and sophomore orientation. other events this year included the two all-school plays and assemblies.

nurses' helpers

the group of nurse's helpers consists of nine girls who assist our nurse, mrs. dolgins. they give up their spare time to act as messengers, secretaries, and aides. without the help of these girls, the nurse's job would be impossible.

office messengers

the office messengers are busy delivering messages throughout the day. the second period helpers run off the absentee bulletin, staple the pages together, and deliver them to the classrooms and offices. during eighth period the messengers collect absentee slips from the teachers. the messengers perform a variety of odd jobs to help make the school secretaries' work lighter and faster.

this year, for the first time, mrs. hall established the reading center assistants club. students are recruited from the phs reading classes to help the reading center. in september the assistants spent much of their time unpacking and/or taking inventory while adjusting to the new school and the revised curriculum. the club also helps in typing and filing, duplicating materials, and operating machines or tape materials.

key club

the phs key club is a service organization sponsored by the plainfield kiwanis club. this year the club's main activities were selling christmas trees at the ymca and holding a party for handicapped children. peter o'melio served as president.

future teachers of america

the future teachers of america, sponsored by mrs. novack, is a club of long standing at phs. their goal is to promote teaching as a profession and to present information about teaching as a career. the club's activities included making and selling candles; role playing, which entails acting out difficult situations which might occur during the school day; and viewing a film made by a fifth grade class.

the future business leaders of america club is open to all students who are taking one or more business courses. in october the club attended a workshop at the empress hotel in asbury park, new jersey. christmas candles were sold in december, and in may the club took a trip to new hope, new jersey. this year's president was barbara covington, secretary was patricia hart, and treasurer was elizabeth graves.

vica, the vocational industrial club of america, is a club for all vocational students with a common interest in educational, recreational, vocational, and civic affairs. its purpose is to unite vocational students and develop their ability to organize, plan, and carry out worthwhile activities to benefit themselves, the school, and the community.

this year a major effort was directed toward making consumer awareness a prime concern. in july students attended a consumer education program at rider college. several other students attended a state vica leadership convention in east brunswick in december to learn to develop communication within the community. speakers from the state department of education and the people's store in new brunswick lectured on ways the consumer can save money and protect himself.

deca, distributive education clubs of america, is a group designed for any student enrolled in distributive education, a program which teaches marketing, merchandising, and management. it is a non-profit, non-political, non-sectarian youth organization. deca elects its own student-officers, and the distributive education teacher-coordinator serves as the chapter advisor. all chapters are self supporting, with members paying local, state, and national dues.

german club

the german club consists of students interested in the german language and customs. the group attended various plays in new york by german playwrights and held a german christmas party. during april seventeen members and their advisor, mr. schiffman, traveled to germany and austria.

the junior classical league, under the supervision of miss horn and mrs. camp, was organized to promote the interest in, and the appreciation of, the civilization, language, and literature of ancient rome. their activities include games, songs, movies, a special christmas project, and a latin banquet. this year's consul was bill stanley, pro-consul was ben stanley, parliamentarian was tom barton, marsha kalban was scribe, and quaestor was cathy stoll.

junior classical league

the human relations club, under the guidance of mrs. mc aloon, strives "to increase understanding of our fellow man, to help erase bias in race, religion, and nationality, and to prepare the individual for responsible citizenship." meeting during activity period on fridays, it is primarily a discussion group that is constantly trying to find new and helpful activities. all new members are welcomed with open arms.

human relations club

the henry banta chapter of the national honor society has made changes this year in an effort make the school aware of its presence and importance. under the guidance of their new faculty advisor, mr. carrier, they have an increased membership. all the new members meet the requirements of a b average and faculty recommendations. after induction, the club began a tutoring program for students within the school. the officers were william stanley, president; andrew goldstein, vice-president; charlotte smith, secretary; and christine smith, treasurer.

mayor's advisory committee

the mayor's student advisory committee was formed in 1969 in answer to a plea by several students for open communication between the city administration and the students. following the suggestion of mayor blatz, interested students began meeting with him to discuss city and school problems. the group began as a liason between the city and the students, but as discussions progressed, the group decided they had access to other people who could help them attain their goals. the committee has succeeded in meeting with members of the school board and public officials on the issues of the public library and the police-student workshops.

the purposes of the senior class council are to help accomplish the plans of seniors and to help the class raise money for their prom. the tasks are achieved through the council of four officers: geary juan johnson, president; donna knight, vice president; naomi fowler, secretary; pat anderson, treasurer; and one representative from each of the eighteen homerooms. innovative ideas introduced this year centered around better communication between the officers and the students. the president's task force and the comment - suggestion - criticism sheet were two of the council's major achievements.

reach-out club

the reach-out club, a bible study group, and a newcomer to phs, meets under the guidance of john miller (p.j.) and mrs. plater, sponsor. plainfield reach-out is just one of several chapters in local high schools. the goal of reach-out is to present the bible in its full context as the word of god in a nondenom-inational fashion. reach-out extends a cordial welcome to both students and teachers.

the golf activities club, under the direction of mr. siege, was initiated this year for the first time in phs. its main purpose is to stimulate an interest in the student body to develop a representative golf team. the members of the club use visual material with explanatory demonstrative instruction and practice swinging golf clubs and hitting plastic golf balls off mats in the girls' gym. because of the continuous hard work of the club, it was possible to develop the basic skills indoors during the winter to be ready for the outdoors when the weather broke.

golf activities club

the skiers from phs are an active group. the club has no affiliation with the school or board of education but exists simply as a group of students who enjoy skiing. day trips were taken weekly during the season to nearby ski resorts.

Here I am to prove that I really did do some work in 112 every morning I'm really glad that you were my h.s. teacher (?) this year. skiing cause I got to know you, and I like what I know it will be impossible for me to forget the many hours that the staff and i spent creating this year's edition of the milestone. the reward of producing what we hope will be a memorable yearbook overshadowed by far the frustrations and headaches.

the student council, especially its advisors, mr. fritz and miss durci, provided a special atmosphere that made room 112 a pleasant and interesting place to work.

on behalf of the staff and myself, i would like to thank

mrs. brannon for her guidance

mr. mace for handling the business details the front offices, the custodial staff, and the board of education telephone operators warren, henry, maurice, and miss shirley for lorstan's good service

mr. lawshe and progress publishers for understanding and following through with our unconventional ideas and lastly, kahlil gibran for the prophet.

we had our good times and hilarious moments:

wednesday half-days last fall spent laughing and working classes missed before deadlines rolling bicycles down miles of corridor to the office misses disappearing and reappearing weeks later fresh air jogging around the parking lot and climbing back in through the window chips and reese's

amy, debby, amy

farewell to you and the youth i have spent with you

it was but yesterday we met in a dream.
you have sung to me in my aloneness, and i of your longings have built a tower in the sky.

but now our sleep has fled and our dream is over, and it is no longer dawn.

the noontide is upon us and our half waking has turned to fuller day, and we must part.

if in the twilight of memory we should meet once more, we shall speak again together and you shall sing to me a deeper song.

and if our hands should meet in another dream we shall build another tower in the sky.

Mrs. Corbett,

Well for me this year has gone kinda fast, for you probably too long. I really liked having you as a teacher cuz you didn't hide your feelings.

You are the craziest teacher I know and I really respect you. (believe it or not)

Next year I would really like to get to know as a friend as well as a teacher.

Have fun this summer and take care,

Karen '92'
Sullivan

Mrs. Corbett,

Stay as nice as you are and Best of Luck To you and your nice Husband. You were a Really nice H.R. Teacher and I'm sure everyone will miss you. (Even me) I'll be careful throughout the years and keep up the good Teaching!
